Application for Artist in Residence (AIR)

CAMP attracts a diverse group of talented artists from around the nation through its AIR program. In exchange for affordable housing and membership of a creative and supportive community, CAMP resident artists make a commitment to the Cherokee community through their work at CAMP. Resident artists facilitate community classes, local expositions and assist with the day-to-day operations of CAMP. Resident Artists are the heart and soul of CAMP. Through the Artist in Residence program (AIR) artists commit to serving CAMP and the Cherokee Community. AIR participants come from around the country to share their work, passion and dreams in a supportive community setting.
